SINN FEINERS ATTEMPT RELEASE OF GRIFFITHS

RESCUE PARTY HALTED AFTER DARING COUP

Men Effect Entrance Into Prison But Are Routed.

FOOL GOVERNOR

Present Proper Credentials To Jail Officials.

Dublin, May 14.—An attempt by daring Sinn Fein leaders to release Arthur Griffith founder of Sinn Fein and vice-president of the Dail Eireann and other imprisoned Irishmen at Mt. Joy jail, failed today.

The rescue party which was dressed in uniforms of soldiers; thereby allaying suspicion of the prison officials, succeeded in getting into the prison and was escorting the Sinn Fein leaders to freedom when the plot was discovered.

The Sinn Feiners drove up to Mount Joy prison in an armored car similar to those used by British soldiers in keeping Dublin pacified, exhibited the proper papers calling for the transfer of the imprisoned Sinn Fein leaders including Griffiths and were admitted.

After being welcomed by the governor of the jail, and his assistants, the Sinn Feiners then seized, bound and gagged the two men and other guards and then went to the cells where Griffiths and other Irish patriots were confined and succeeded in getting them changed into custody and on their way to the armored car when returning guards and British soldiers discovered the intruders.

The Sinn Feiners were challenged at the prison barrier by those guards, who suspicious of a possible jail delivery questioned the Sinn Fein party closely. The latter became frightened and abandoned the prisoners and jumped into the waiting car.

As the armored car raced away the British guards sent a hail of bullets after the audacious intruders. After reaching a safe distance from the prison the masquerading Sinn Feiners abandoned the car and "melted away."

Arthur Griffiths was arrested and imprisoned last year after a raid had been made upon his home by British soldiers and papers seized. He has been a leader of the intellectual side of Sinn Fein never urging violence.

Two of them were said to have been sighted in the cabin wreathed in flames. One man was rescued from the burning deck and two others were pulled out of the water where they were blown by the force of the explosion.

The eyes of one of these were literally blown from his head. The trio was rushed to a hospital where it was said their condition is serious.

LOYD GEORGE TAKES PART OF GERMAN NATION

British Premier Is Hero Of Germany Following Announcement.

OPPOSES POLEE

States Position In Regard To Upper Silesian Trouble.

David Lloyd George, prime minister of Great Britain was the "hero of the day" for all Germany today.

His plain words in parliament yesterday in which he sided with the Germans as against the Poles in the Upper Silesia question were spread broadcast by the press today, accompanied by long laudatory editorial comments and it is safe to say that the British premier's utterances were the most welcome news that has been imparted to the German people since the war. Their effect was doubly powerful because they found the young republics in the throes of deep despondency occasioned by Berlin's submission to the reparations ultimatum. They came from the lips of the leading allied statesman who for years has been the target of "hymns of hate" and venomous caricatures in the same papers and added to the dramatic effect of the news.

Reports and rumors of a "reapportionment" between Germany and Britain which yesterday were only hinted at in whispers among the "initiated" were today a general topic of open discussion.

On the other hand conservative observers viewed the momentous news about the history-making parliamentary session with unconcealed misgivings. They feared that this encouragement from the strongest man in the entente, his sympathetic words for Germany and his sharp censure of Poland for her aggressive conduct in Upper Silesia would promptly prove an inestimable boon to the reactionaries who still dream of reestablishing a military empire, and who in the last few weeks have done much sabre rattling, threatening "open warfare" on Poland.

SERIOUS RIOTING OCCURS IN BELFAST

Dublin, May 14.—Serious rioting took place in Belfast's strong hold of Ulster this morning. Sinn Feiners there made three separate attacks on the docks, using revolvers and stones as their main weapons. The police had difficulty in suppressing the riots. Several persons were injured in the fighting.

Treaty Between Germany And Russia Now Signed

Agreement Reached Over Exchange Of Prisoners Of War and Resumption Of Trade Relations, It Is Reported.

Washington, May 14.—The much discussed and long delayed treaty between Soviet Russia and Germany has at last been signed, according to official information here today.

POLISH PREMIER TO RESIGN HIS JOB

London, May 14.—The foreign affairs committee of the Polish parliament has voted lack of confidence in the present government and Premier Sapieha is about to resign according to a dispatch from Warsaw today.

In some quarters this report was interpreted as an indication that the influence of Adelbert Korfanty, Polish nationalist leader has proved sufficiently strong to wield the club of a threatened overthrow over the heads of the present ministers.

In other circles, however it was suggested that it would be a "shrewd and logical move" on the part of the Polish government at this juncture in view of yesterday's "curtain lesson" to Poland by Lloyd George to step aside, causing a ministerial crisis with consequent delay of action to stay the hand of the belligerent Korfanty and presenting to the allies an entire new slate of ministers with whom the whole matter would have to be gone all over again.

MME. CURRIE HERE TO ACCEPT GIFT

Mme. Marie S. Curie, the greatest woman scientist the world has ever produced and one of the greatest scientists of the age, has arrived in New York. Mme. Curie discoverer of radium, is here to receive from the hands of President Harding a gram of radium purchased with $100,000 supplied by Americans through a fund raised by women of this country who admired her work.

The significance of the gift is better appreciated when it is known that there is but five ounces or 141 grams of radium in the world. Mme. Curie is accompanied by her daughters, Irene, twenty-three, and Eve, whom all France knows as "Petite," sixteen. The mother and her two daughters were escorted here by Mrs. Wm. Brown Meloney, of New York, chairman of the Marie Curie Radium Fund.

Question of Poll Tax Will Be Submitted To Voters

Senate Concurs In House Action On Proposed Amendment—Nothing Further Will Be Done On Taxation.

Columbus, O., May 14.—The only progress made by the state legislature on the subject of taxation during the past 24 hours occurred when the senate by a vote of 30 to 5, concurred in the action of the house by adopting the Weaver resolution submitting to the voters at the November election on a proposed amendment to the state constitution providing for a poll, or per capita tax.

When the house, by a vote of 53 to 52, accepted an amendment offered by Rep. Fouts, Morgan county, to the Dunn taxation resolution, Rep. Dunn moved further consideration of the resolution be deferred. His motion was adopted. The Dunn resolution embodied a modification of the recommendations of the erstwhile citizens' taxation committee appointed by Gov. Davis some weeks ago. The Fouts amendment prevented future state legislatures from classifying property for taxation purposes.

House leaders indicated that nothing more will be done at the present session toward solving the taxation problem.

When majority floor leader Whittemore, Republican, offered a resolution, providing for a recess from today to May 27, Senator Miller, Muskingum county, Republican sought to amend by providing for sine die adjournment on May 27. The senate defeated the Miller proposal with 24 opposing votes. When the resolution was taken up in the house the Miller amendment was accepted and the resolution then adopted.

House members cheered and yelled when Rep. Crabbe, majority floor leader, Republican, declared: "If the senate refuses to concur in our amendment the house, if you members feel as I do, will go home when its work is done today, or Monday, leave the senate here and see what happens."

EDISON'S QUESTIONS SUBJECT OF ATTACK BY COLLEGE MEN

West Orange, N. J., May 14.—Thomas A. Edison, wizard inventor, who has been bedfast this week owing to a cold, today, had dashed off a new set of miscellaneous "general knowledge" questions to baffle job applicants at his factories, where he personally does part of the hiring and firing. His questionnaire system was shot full of holes by college men who after failing in the tests, had furnished newspapers with comprehensive lists of Edison's interrogations.

Edison is said to have enjoyed hugely the attacks being made upon his questionnaire system.

WOULD HALT "UNFAIR" AMERICAN VESSELS

New York, May 14.—Cablegrams urging marine workers in all European, Central and South American ports to refuse to handle "unfair" American ships that have sailed in spite of efforts here of the marine strikers to halt them were dispatched today, it was announced by Gus Brown, local business manager of the International Seamen's Association.

The announcement was made after Brown had been in telephonic conversation with higher officers of the association at Washington.

RADICAL CHANGES IN TAXES URGED

Washington, May 14.—Widespread and radical changes in the present taxation system were urged upon congress today by spokesmen for 25,000 retail merchants all over the United States.

Presenting their cases Charles D. Clark of Detroit, who appeared before the senate finance committee, the retailers recommended the elimination of the excess profits tax, elimination of the excise tax, reduction of individual higher sur tax and the establishment in their stead of a general sales and turnover tax on all sales of merchandise.

DESPERATE FIGHTING STILL IN PROGRESS IN WEST VIRGINIA

Toll Of Human Life In Two Battles In Mining District Known To Be Six—Conditions Described As Appalling.

Washington, May 14.—Orders went forward from Washington today to Major General George W. Read, commanding the Fifth Army corps area to send U. S. regulars into the battle zone of West Virginia and Kentucky whenever in his judgement they were necessary to preserve law and order.

Williamson, W. Va., May 14.—Word just received here says the town of Sprigg is being shot up. Machine guns planted on the mountain sides are pouring a deadly fire into the town, the report says. The firing this forenoon is heavier than at any time since the big battle opened. It is believed that an attempt is being made to prevent the concentration of state troopers and deputies. This is the first time the attacking forces have used machine guns along the Tug river front.

Washington, May 14.—Officials had reached no decision early today as to whether the situation in West Virginia "warfare" warrants the sending of federal troops into the affected districts. A regiment of infantry is being maintained in readiness to move at a moment's notice by the commander of the Fifth Army corps.

A report is awaited from a staff officer sent by Major General George W. Read to investigate conditions. When this report is received it will be immediately placed before the president upon whom the final decision will rest. The administration it was said authoritatively today is loath to send troops into any state unless conditions there are such as to make their presence absolutely necessary in the protection of life and property. It is the attitude of the government that each state should, so far as possible maintain order within its own boundaries.

In West Virginia the situation is regarded as practically aggravating because of the absence of a national guard which war department officials assert the state officials of West Virginia have refused to authorize.

Williamson, W. Va., May 14.—Fighting was resumed on the Tug river battle front at dawn today. During the night desultory firing had been kept up but when day break came the hostilities were renewed with increased desperation, according to word received here this morning.

Rifle firing from both sides is in progress. The attacking forces appear bent upon preventing miners from going to work.

The toll of human life in the two battles is known to be a six, but reports received here during the night, indicate it will probably reach 20.

All communication to many of the mining hamlets where the fighting has been the heaviest has been cut. There is no accurate list of the dead and injured but information is being received at the sheriff's office here by messengers.

Snipers hidden in the hills have stopped all traffic along the highway that traverses the towns along the 15 mile battle front. By keeping the highway under fire the movement of reinforcements to points where fighting was the severest has been greatly retarded.

Sheriff A. C. Pinson has arranged with the Norfolk and Western railroad to have an engine and steel coach ready to move instantly to any of the towns in the battle zone.

Throughout the night and into the morning hours non-combatants from the battle zone along the Mingo-Pike county border have been trekking into Williamson in a thin stream. Included in the number are many women, some of them with young babes at their breasts, while others are hobbling along with crutches, suffering from various ailments.

Dan Whitt, a miner, one of the six who was killed in yesterday's fighting met his death while trying to get water for twenty or more women and children who had taken refuge in a cellar at the mouth of Sulphur creek. His effort failed and these people are reported in dire distress, having been without food or water since the firing began on Thursday. They cannot escape and chances for rescue are barred by the incessant hail of bullets which resulted in Whitt's death.

The entire section east of Matewan was in darkness last night the high tension wires carrying current having been shot down. The Norfolk and Western railway has but one wire working and all kinds of messages from this section are greatly delayed. The railroad pumping and coal station at Vulcan cannot operate.

The inability of the authorities to check the battle has emboldened the attacking parties and the situation is becoming more acute each hour.

It is known that there is sufficient number of rifles and ammunition cached in the mountains to last for an indefinite period. The attacks are being made along concreted lines, indicating that they have been prearranged. For months rifles and ammunition have been accumulating and the opening shot in the battle was not fired until there was a supply of ammunition on hand to last for a considerable period.

Edgill Mitchell, living at Sprigg, made his way here during the night. Describing the situation he said: "I own my own home up there, but at the present rate of destruction it won't be worth much—it looked like a sieve when I abandoned it."

This applies to the homes of others in the various sectors along Tug river.

PLEADS GUILTY TO STAGING ROBBERY

Newark, O., May 14.—Charles Abraham, alias Charles Evans, world war veteran, pleaded guilty in Judge Bolton's municipal court yesterday to having held up John Carlie, in charge of the Reinbold Gasoline station and robbed the cash register of $180. Carlie's sicked Abraham out of a crowd of two thousand people at the carnival grounds Tuesday night. Bond $2,000.

REVOLUTIONARY TROUBLE STILL LACES ENGLAND

Sabotage Reported From Coal Fields Of Empire

TO CALL CONFERENCE

Further Strike Trouble Said To Be Inevitable Now.

London, May 14.—The industrial warfare growing out of the coal strike which Premier Lloyd George told parliament yesterday was behind a well defined "revolutionary movement" continued in full swing. From the Fifehire coal fields a renewal of sabotage was reported. The telephone wires have been cut and consequently details are lacking, but word was received in a roundabout way that in one district 150 striking miners placed obstructions on the railway tracks, held up a train and made the entire train crew prisoners.

At Blantyre the bottom of a mine pit was damaged when a box of gelignite dropped into the shaft exploded. The premier is expected to call a conference of miners and mine owners about the middle of next week to consider a new scheme which would make certain that wages will not fall below an adequate standard of living. In well informed quarters it was considered possible that the government might increase the coal mine subsidy.

The employees at the power house supplying the London county tramways are scheduled to go on strike at noon. This strike will seriously cripple the traffic service.

A "lightning strike" also is threatened. The latest edition of the Daily Herald, official labor organ announced it as inevitable.

GERMANY TO TAKE PRIVATE WEALTH TO PAY INDEMNITY

Berlin, May 14.—Germany will confiscate the gold, diamonds and pearls of her citizens for the purpose of paying the indemnity to the allies if Dr. Matthias Erzberger has his way.

Erzberger who returned to his full former power as Germany's political boss when his lieutenant, Dr. Wirth, became chancellor a few days ago, confided this plan exclusively to the International News Service today.

The former vice chancellor and finance minister is bitterly hated in wide classes because he was more than any other individual responsible for Germany's signing the Versailles treaty and furthermore because he is the author of an exhaustive confiscatory tax system. He remained in the background during the past year, content to "pull the wires."

APPEAL TO HARDING

Washington, May 14.—Appeals to President Harding and Secretary Weeks for troops to quell the disturbances in the Mingo county coal fields of West Virginia were received today from Governors Morgan of West Virginia and Morrow of Kentucky.

OHIO FORECAST FOR WHEAT 11 PER CENT. ABOVE TEN YEAR AVERAGE SAYS REPORT

A wheat crop of 40,750,000 bushels is forecast for Ohio this year by the State-Federal Crop Reporting Service. Last year the yield was 28,308,000 bushels and the ten-year average is 35,170,000 bushels. The condition on May 1 is reported at 91 per cent of normal (equivalent to a yield of 13.7 bushels per acre.) This compares with a condition on April 1 of 87 per cent and on May 1 a year ago the condition was reported at 68 per cent. The ten year average condition on May 1 is 85 per cent. The abandonment of winter wheat in Ohio for this year has been less than 2 per cent, leaving 2,184,000 acres to be harvested. In parts of the State some damage from freezing is reported and scattered reports of the presence of Hessian fly are being received which under certain weather conditions might materially affect yields. The estimated acreage for winter wheat in the United States is 38,721,000 and a production of 629,487,000 bushels is forecast, based on reported condition of 89 per cent of normal.

Rye.
The production of rye in Ohio this year is estimated at 1,231,000 bushels, based on a May 1 condition of 93 per cent (equivalent to 17 bushels per acre) and an estimated acreage of 72,400. The condition of rye on April 1 was reported at 91 per cent and on May 1 last year the condition was placed at 95 per cent of normal. The estimated acreage of rye for the United States is 4,544,000 with a condition of 93 per cent of normal and a yield of 72,700,000 bushels.

May.
The acreage for hay in Ohio this year is estimated at 3,276,000 an increase of 4 per cent over last year. The condition of hay is reported at 95 percent of normal, compared to 87 per cent on May 1 last year and a ten year average of about 88 per cent. The total production based on the May 1 condition is estimated at 4,900,000 tons. The production last year was 4,235,000 tons. Of this old crop 17 per cent is still on the farms as compared with a usual hold-over of around 10 per cent. For the United States a normal hay acreage of 74,000,000 acres is estimated, with a production of 107,784,000 tons. The total hold-over on farms for the United States is estimated at 19,440,000 tons or 18 per cent, which compares with the hold over a year ago of 11,377,000 tons.

Farm Work.
About 61 per cent of spring plowing is reported as done in Ohio and 46 per cent of spring planting is completed. Throughout the United States 78 per cent of plowing and 64 per cent of spring planting is done.

Pasture.
The condition of pasture is reported at 96 per cent for the State as compared with 75 per cent last year at this time and for the United States an average condition of 92 per cent is estimated.

Condition of Live Stock.
Live stock came through the winter well with a present condition only slightly below the average and reported at from 94 per cent to 97 per cent normal, varying slightly for different kinds of stock.

TOBACCO ACREAGE IN OHIO IS MUCH LESS THAN NORMAL

The acreage of tobacco in the Miami Valley, where the filler type is grown promises to be about the same as last year, according to reports received by C. J. West, Agricultural Statistician for Ohio. Since the acreage in this district was about 25 per cent below normal in 1920, it is apparent that this year's acreage will be much below normal. In other districts of the state the reduction in acreage runs from 25 per cent to 75 per cent below last year.

In the Burley sections along the Ohio river where the acreage has been steadily increasing during the last few years, the planting will be reduced 45 per cent. This drastic decrease is due almost entirely to the fact that prices received for the 1920 crop hardly paid for the cost of harvesting the crop, the price ranging from 5 to 10¢.

In the export district which centers in Belmont county, the acreage will apparently be still further cut, the reports showing a reduction of 65 per cent, which was due almost entirely to the ruinous prices received for last year's crop.

Reports from Pennsylvania indicate that the acreage of filler tobacco grown in Lancaster County will be about the same as last year.

WILL EXPERIMENT IN SENDING MARKET NEWS BY RADIOPHONE

Agricultural market reports by radiophone is the latest innovation announced by the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture. This service will be launched experimentally at East Pittsburgh and with the necessary radiophone apparatus farmers and others within a few hundred miles of Pittsburgh will be able to learn agricultural market conditions and prices immediately after the close of the markets. The reports are to be sent from radio station KDKA over a wave length of 330 meters.

The department's experimental radiophone service follows shortly the inauguration of sending agricultural market reports by wire. Daily radio market reports are now being dispatched from Omaha, St. Louis, Washington and Bellefonte, Pa., and received by wireless operators in 22 Central and Eastern States who immediately relay the news to farmers shipping associations, distributors of farm products and others. Although in existence but a short time the department is receiving many gratifying reports regarding the usefulness of this service, and marketing organizations everywhere are not only watching the work with keen interest but are arranging as rapidly as possible to utilize the service.

Sending the reports by radiophone would greatly simplify their receipt by farmers and others direct, in as much as the operation of a radiophone set does not require a knowledge of wireless codes. Instead of coming in dots and dashes the market news would be received in English, the same as conversation over an ordinary telephone. At present those desiring the radio market reports must make arrangements with local experienced wireless operators to receive and relay messages to them.

BRONCHIAL TROUBLE CAUSED ANXIETY.

No medicine has a better reputation than Foley's Honey and Tar for quickly relieving coughs, colds and croup. It loosens the phlegm and mucus, clears the passages, eases hoarseness, stops tickling throat, John G. Hekking, 135 Burgess Place, Passaic, N. J., writes: "I was suffering from an acute case of bronchial trouble which gave me considerable anxiety. Foley's Honey and Tar deserves all the credit for my being well now." Sayre & Hemphill.

At the close of the dinner a delightful farce, "Deacon Dubbs" was presented by the following Juniors: Edith Bath, John Sutton, Alan Mendenhall, Sarah Seifert, Robert Douthett, Eleanor Kierman, Vernon Arnold, Ernest Randall, Erma Collins and Olive Benbow.

Before leaving the dining hall the Juniors sang their class song. Dancing was enjoyed the rest of the evening. Weiners, buttered potatoes, creamed peas, strawberry jam, pickles, buns and butter, pie, coffee, and candy. After the dishes were put back in place, the evening was spent in dancing and games. At a late hour, after having a most enjoyable evening the jolly bunch journeyed toward home.

ALL SENIORS TO

Seniors were informed this week that each and every one of them is expected to write an oration, the outlines being due May twentieth, and the finished products on May twenty seventh. Another great flood of knowledge will enrich the world's store but "there is them among us is glad" we don't have to listen to them.

ALUMNI NOTES

Lawrence Ferguson, class of '14, graduated last week from the Xenia Theological Seminary at St. Louis. He will become pastor of a church in St. Louis at once.

His marriage to Miss Mary Anderson, also a graduate of Central High will be an event of early June in which many are especially interested.

Katherine Barnes, a graduate of Central and former teacher in the grades, will make a visit in Xenia the last of May. She is employed in government work in Chicago where she is teaching disabled soldiers.

Marshall Best, class of '18, who has been attending Dennison for three years has almost completed his four years course lacking only a few credits for graduation.

He is expected to do high school teaching next year and the following year to enter a medical school. He will, however, receive his degree from Dennison after completing the work necessary for the few remaining credits. Marshall has always been a good student and kept up his record in college by increasing the number of hours per week more than was required. FRESHMEN AND SENIORS HOLD TWO WEINER ROASTS

First and also least comes the merry crowd from the class of '24 which motored to Hawkins' Woods on Wednesday evening to enjoy a weiner roast. They left Xenia about five o'clock and arrived about six.

In order to work up a good appetite the party played tag and other old time favorites before preparing for the supper which included weiners, buns, pickles and everything else that goes with a weiner roast.

Those who enjoyed the evening and delicious eats were: Pauline Sutton, Irene Parrott, Louise Barnett, Virginia Ralls, Ruth Clouse, Beatrice Stuffs, Robert Owens, Phil Lip Frame, Thomas Moore, Victor Weaver, Arthur Hyman and James Bryson.

After supper more interesting games were played and then the crowd started toward Xenia but as luck would have it one machine was late in getting in on account of one of the boys fainting. However he soon recovered.

Last came the Seniors who held a weiner roast at Chilton on the same evening. They had their supper soon after they arrived there and then the remainder of the evening was spent in games.

SHOWER IS GIVEN

Several girls answered the call to the shower given by Miss Poland, at her home, on Wednesday evening for the bride-to-be, Miss Florence Kelle, an alumni of Central High.

The evening was spent in a very enjoyable way. At a late hour the charming hostess served delicious refreshments. Miss Kelle received many different and pretty presents from the guests who wish her every happiness.

SOPHOMORES AND LINCOLN HIGH SPLIT TWO GAMES

Lincoln won the first 22-21. Sophomores won the second 14-12. Both games were won by one run.

The first game was a slugging contest both teams hitting the ball hard and at the right time. Wolary, hurler for the Sophomores pitched a classy brand of ball throughout the game but was backed by poor support at times. LeSourd and Hagler played a good game. Gagner, LeSourd, Hagler, Ballantyne and Wolary featured at the bat. Lincoln used three pitchers. Taylor being the most effective. Taylor was backed by some good fielding and timely hitting.

The Sophomores were in the lead only one inning. They made eight runs in the sixth and went into the lead by one run but Lincoln came back in the lucky seventh and scored nine runs.

The second game was a close one with good pitching and fielding, by both teams. The game was stopped in the seventh. Gagner, Ballantyne and Wolary led the Sophomores in batting with their three-base and home run smashes. Whitington, Hagler and LeSourd played well in the field and got several safe hits apiece. Taylor Corbett and the first basemen played a good game for Lincoln in the field and at bat. Wolary pitched the entire game for the Sophomores. While Lincoln used two pitchers.

OVER SOPHOMORES
This is the second win of the season for the freshmen the sophomores twice being victims. The freshmen won the first game which was played on a cold rainy day, by a score of 11-10. Fuller did the hurling for the freshmen and was ably supported by the fielders and the Freshmen heavy slugging. The Freshmen were leading all the time except one inning but they came back in their half and scored eleven runs, a lead which the Sophomores were never able to overcome. The pitching on both sides was good but they were backed by poor support. The games now are practice games to prepare for the class games to follow soon.

Batteries—Freshmen, Fuller and Bottruff.
Sophomores, Wolary, Cowan.

FOURTEEN NEW PRECINCTS ARE ADDED TO COUNTY LIST BY BOARD OF ELECTION

The Greene County Board of Elections, organizing for the coming year at a meeting held Thursday afternoon, voted unanimously to add 14 new precincts in the county at once, to take care of the increased number of voters occasioned by the added women voters. There are now 32 precincts and the new total will be 46.

J. M. Fletcher, Democrat, of Xenia, and D. O. Jones, Republican of Beaver creek township, newly appointed to membership on the board. Mr. Fletcher being re-appointed, presented their certificates of appointment from Sec. of State Harvey C. Smith at the meeting. Both have been sworn into office by the Clerk of Courts, Paul H. Cresswell, clerk of the Board was re-elected to that position at the meeting by unanimous vote, to serve during the coming year.

The decision of the Board to re-precinct the County, adding 14 new precincts of which five are in Xenia city was permanently decided upon, following a long investigation of the necessity of such a procedure. There are now 13,580 votes in the county, counting the newly enfranchised women. Seven precincts, that are political sub-divisions and are much smaller than the limit on the number of voters cannot be lessened by the Board, although their total vote is only 1,817 or an average of 259 to the precinct. Osborn village, which at present has 394 votes, will not be changed at present because of the fact that it is to be moved. This leaves 24 precincts in which there is a total vote of 11,374 votes, or an average of over 478 votes to each precinct. The vote in these precincts ranged from 323 to 796, the largest being D precinct in Xenia City.

Although the Board has absolute power to change them, there will be no sub-division in Rose township, New Jasper township, Jefferson township and Caesar creek township. All are under 400 votes and although the Board could divide them it was decided to make no change. Xenia city will be the most completely changed, the board adhering to none of the former precinct lines, in subdividing the city and adding five new precincts. As the present City Charter does not provide for wards, no consideration will be given those subdivisions.

The precincts of the county which have more than 400 votes and which will be divided into two precincts are: Bath Township, Cedarville township, Silvercreek township, Cedarville village, Jamestown village, and Yellow Springs village. Beaver creek township which at present has two precincts will be changed to three precincts and two more precincts will be added to Xenia township, which at present has two making a total of four precincts. Xenia city will be changed from eight precincts to 13.

The action of the board in adding the 14 new precincts in the County was unanimous and influenced by a letter received from Secretary of

WISDOM AND FOLLY ARE VERY NEAR NEIGHBORS.

It was Josh Billings who said the trouble with some educated people is not that they know so many things, but that—they often "know so many things that are not so."

Truly, "all is not gold that glitters," nor can we receive as actual truth everything that passes current in the conversations by the way.

To repeat innocently the commonplaces of the day can only be done safely in a guarded way.

We must carry a good, clear head with us all the time.

PEACE WITHOUT FOREIGN ENTANGLEMENT, BUT LOOK-OUT FOR A FLOOD OF STUFF "MADE IN GERMANY."

Our foreign relations situation revolves about Secretary Hughes. President Harding has given Mr. Hughes virtually a free rein in negotiating with foreign powers such arrangements as may be necessary to protect this country's interests in the post-war settlements. Whatever may be the fact, the Senate irreconcilables are convinced Secretary Hughes is bent on getting the United States into some sort of an alliance with Europe of the character contemplated in the Versailles Treaty.

The President has given assurances when the situation has been delicately broached, that neither he nor Secretary Hughes had any intention of committing the country to European entanglements. More than that, Mr. Harding has made some entirely friendly remarks about the pre-eminence of the President of the United States in initiating foreign relations, adding that no executive sanction has yet been given to anything that would justify the fears of the Senate.

Although an incalculable new political crisis has been avoided, American economic experts are anxiously speculating whether or not the settlement has sown the dragon's teeth of an immeasurable economic crisis. Despite her lamentations, Germany's industrial machine for months has been working at high speed. It undoubtedly is ready to swoop down upon the markets of the world with old-time vigor. Indeed, it will have to do so if the Germans are to find the wherewithal to meet the staggering reparation demands.

In the expectation of flooding foreign countries with stuff, "made in Germany," the Berlin Government sees the one and only silver lining to its cloud of misery.

THE PRESIDENT'S PLAINT.

A newspaper man down in Washington has been reminiscing. He tells the plaint of President Harding, who has been, among other things, a Senator and a newspaper man.

It seems that President Harding, looking back at Senator Harding and the newspapers, has a sort of grievance against the Washington writers. Long since, it was during the half-forgotten fight over the treaty in the Wilsonian age, Senator Harding fixed up what he felt was a whale of a speech. He admitted it was. He had hammered it out by hand, copper-riveted it, polished it with mental agony, checked, revised and edited it and set it with jewels.

Senator Harding got up in the Senate and made that speech. The next morning he looked over the papers and found that this favorite, raised-a-pet oration of his had got maybe as much as "two sticks." Now "two sticks" is not a whole lot of space.

Then it seems that on another day Senator Lodge or Senator Smoot, or somebody else, was cooking up something in the Senate and Senator Harding was asked to talk about something, anything, while the cooking-up was completed. He stood like Horatius at the bridge and he talked. He can't recall what he said, but he thinks it amounted to very little. He just rambled along. Yet, behold! The next day the papers had a column devoted to that same speech.

This troubles the President, who is also a newspaper man, one of the ancient craft of scribes. He thinks maybe that Joves of the press sometimes nod. He believes that they overlooked something when they gave him a couple of fat paragraphs on his great effort and that they overplayed his speech on that other day when he was obliging Lodge, or was it Smoot?

Newspaper reporters being average human, make mistakes. There are sins of omission and commission. Their judgment in special instances may be bad. But, by and large and taking the mine-run of the news, they reflect very faithfully the judgments of humanity in the end.—Public Ledger.

BIG SUM AVAILABLE FOR ROAD BUILDING DECLARES DIRECTOR

Washington, D. C., May 14—Approximately $2,000,000 is available every working day during the present year for expenditure upon highways of the United States, according to a statement by Prof. C. J. Tilden, director of the Highway and Highway Transport Education Committee.

The actual sum available from state and county bond issues and Federal aid for the year is $600,000,000, a sum fifty per cent greater than the total cost of the Panama Canal, according to figures obtained from the Bureau of Public Roads.

This point was made by Prof. Tilden in stressing the need for more courses in highway construction and economics in colleges and universities. To spend this amount wisely, he said, would require the services of more than 10,000 trained highway engineers. At this time, universities are graduating only about 1,000 civil engineers annually, of whom only a small percentage turn to highway construction. The supply is far short of the demand, according to Prof. Tilden.

Through the agency of the committee of which he is director, Prof. Tilden is endeavoring to persuade institutions of higher learning to include courses in highway economics in their regular curriculums. Prof. Tilden occupies the chair of engineering mechanics at Yale University, but is on leave as director of the committee. Another more popular campaign is being undertaken by the committee by means of a national essay contest among high school pupils on the subject "Good Roads and Highway Transport." Several hundred letters of inquiry are received daily from all sections of the country. Even the island possession and the territories are seeking information on the contest.

News of the contest has been conveyed to pupils by their teachers and school superintendents in response to an announcement sent out by Dr. P. P. Clayton, United States Commissioner of Education, who is chairman of the highway transport committee. Essays must be not more than 500 words in length and must be in the hands of local committees not later than June 15, when the contest closes. Only pupils of high school grade are eligible to compete. Virtually all state superintendents are naming state committees to award state honors and prizes, and are announcing the contest to their pupils. Commissioner Clayton will name the national committee, which will award the main prize.

A similar contest held last year resulted in approximately 200,000 essays being written. The Preststone scholarship was awarded Miss Katharine F. Butterfield, 16-year old high school girl of Weiser, Idaho.

THIS IS THE BIRTHDAY OF FAHRENHEIT

May 14th, 1686.

Gabriel Daniel Fahrenheit, the inventor of the scale thermometer which bears his name, though not the inventor of the thermometer itself, was one of the greatest scientists of his age. He was a German, born in Danzig, but he does not seem to have liked his country, for he spent practically all his life either in England or in Holland.

His life was not particularly interesting as far as its events are concerned. He went to Holland early in life, and spent his time either there or in physics.

Many years before, Galileo had invented an air thermometer which was not satisfactory because it was affected by atmospheric pressure. During Fahrenheit's lifetime Sir Isaac Newton proposed a thermometer scale in which the freezing point of water was to be zero, and the temperature of the human body 12. To obtain more accurate readings than this allowed for Fahrenheit proposed 32 as freezing, and the boiling point of water 212. This scale is in general use still in England and America.

Fahrenheit made his living by manufacturing scientific instruments. He died in Holland in 1736.

OFFICIALLY CLOSE LOCAL WORK HOUSE

An ordinance officially closing the Work House was read the first time at the meeting of the City Commission Thursday night.

Although the Work House has been closed for more than a year, it was not closed by ordinance, and it was feared that through technicality in the closing order, that confusion might result.

As a matter of precaution, the ordinance was drafted, officially closing the penal institution that long did service here.

Practical Business Talks

THE ART OF BREVITY.

People who sell things should cultivate the art of brevity. It takes longer to sell some articles than it does others. Usually the higher the price the longer it takes to close the deal. The art of brevity consists in saying only enough to close the sale. Many salesmen talk themselves out of a sale through their fondness for dispensing language.

A brief sales letter may consist of one page, or of two, three or four pages. It is brief if it contains nothing beyond what is necessary. Not one letter in a hundred thousand is as brief as it should be.

"It is better to be brief than tedious" is a piece of business advice culled from Shakespeare. And Sophocles long ago discovered that "a short saying often carries much wisdom."

"Trusting to hear from you soon," and "assuring you of our deep esteem" and hundreds of other ornamental phrases so beloved of letter-writers in the past are falling into disuse. They are unnecessary, meaningless and becloud the real message embodied in the letter.

There is the other extreme, of course, that of being too brief. "In laboring to be concise," wrote Horace, "I become obscure."

In selling, write or say everything which is necessary to make your proposition clear and convincing. Pare off every word, every phrase, every illustration which befores the issue and retards the sale.

Few people who talk for a living ever make the mistake of being too brief. Usually they would do better if they permitted their customers to talk more and if they themselves would be better listeners.

THE PESSIMISTS.

The recent winter was the best that ever struck the middle West. The skies were blue as skies of May, the sun was shining every day, the breezes had the scent of spring, and summer birds came back to sing. And men of wisdom said, "Great Scott! This kind of winter hits the spot, so let us cast all fears aside, and take the gifts the gods provide. It may be we will have to pay for every bright and sunny day, but while the sunny days are here, we'll sing and dance and never fear." But there were grouches everywhere, and they denounced the balmy air. "We need cold weather now," they said, "with storm clouds looming overhead; we need all kinds of snow and sleet, we need a blizzard and repeat. This kind of winter is a flaw, a slip in nature's ancient law; and when she makes so bad a break, she'll even things, and no mistake. There'll be a blizzard in the spring, and it will riddle everything; the fruit will wilt in winter's breath, the bugs that should have died the death will eat the corn and hay and oats, and bear off our collective goats." And thus the robe of gloom is worn by fellows who were made to mourn; they always miss the bliss and fun of basking in the genial sun.

AN EDITORIAL ON BUYING

Did you read in your newspaper the other morning the interesting advertisement of unusual sale values offered by a reputable firm, which contained this sentence:

"The truth is, these have been reduced to attract you here in the hope that you will see some other things that might interest you."

Now the fact is that in addition to the special values in wearing apparel advertised on that morning there were in that store many other interesting values which would have helped to stretch the buying power of your purse.

And have given you cause to thank the firm for attracting you to its doors.

Merchants and manufacturers are many times able to take smaller profits on merchandise by creating through advertising a greater demand and an increased volume of sales. That is the law by which advertising works to reduce prices at ways, both on special sales articles and on regular stocks.

There are many reasons why lower prices are features from time to time. In explaining to the buying public why they exist for a day or a week, a merchant makes his business methods an open secret between himself and his customer. A bond of mutual confidence is thus established, and the buyer discovers that it is worth his while to take advantage of such price values whenever they are advertised. He knows also that other splendid values are there—quality values and style values which are of equal importance with price values.

No merchant buys advertising space to attract customers to his store for one time. Money spent for advertising pays only when the merchant or manufacturer makes a friend of the buyer—a repeat customer. When therefore a special value is thus frankly advertised, it is because there is the right kind of merchandise in other lines to offer customers once they come to purchase.

That is why it is always wise to go where special prices are frankly emphasized. Again the value of the frank

AUTOISTS INJURED WHILE RETURNING FROM DAYTON TRIAL

Mrs. Ida Clemmer, and her son, Herschel Clemmer, of Rosemoor, five miles east of Jamestown, were both injured when their Essex automobile collided with a heavy truck on the Dayton and Xenia pike, six miles out of Dayton, Friday morning.

Mrs. Clemmer was taken to Miami Valley Hospital, Dayton, a bad cut on her face, requiring ten stitches. Herschel Clemmer sustained an injury to one arm, although the automobile was demolished. Mr. Clemmer, who was occupying the rear seat was unhurt. Later he was forced to bed because of shock.

The Clemmers were returning from Dayton, where Herschel Clemmer had been on trial in common pleas court on a charge of manslaughter resulting from the death of William Nealon, 7 of Dayton, who it is alleged was struck by Clemmer's automobile and killed in Dayton, December 28, 1919. The jury in the case, in which Clemmer was represented by Attorney C. L. Darlington of this city, disagreed on the verdict Friday and was dismissed and the Clemmers started for their home.

TO CHANGE METHOD OF OFFERING PRAYER AT A. L. MEETINGS

Father William P. O'Conner, of Jamestown, has returned from Indianapolis where he went with the national committee of the American Legion, selected to decide upon a manual of ceremonies for all Legion posts.

The committee changed the method of offering prayer in the Post meetings to conform to the holdings of the various religious beliefs represented in the Legion's membership. Initiations will henceforth be secret and men entering the Legion will pledge themselves to the American flag and its principles.

The committee disapproved of the poppy as the American Legion flower, claiming that the poppy is not distinctly an American flower and that it could only be obtained in paper.

EFFICIENT WORK OF FORMER XENIA MAN WINS RECOGNITION FROM CAPITOL

C. NELSON SPARKS.

The appointment of C. Nelson Sparks, former Xenian Postmaster of Akron, came as the result of recognition of efficient work as safety director of that city, which position he had occupied since January 1, 1920.

Advices from Washington stated that Mr. Sparks was considered a thoroughly efficient executive, entirely capable of discharging the business of the Akron postoffice, which is among the 50 leading postoffices of the country, in point of mail dispatched and cash receipts.

Mr. Sparks' work as safety director of Akron has received high praise from the better element of the city, and favorable comment from the better element of the city, and favorable comment from the press of his community. From the reputation of being considered one of the most lawless cities in the country, at the time Mr. Sparks took charge of the office, Akron now enjoys a more enviable position through his efforts as Safety Director, it is stated.

Laws Were Violated.

A year ago last January, at the time Mr. Sparks took the reins, practically every law on the statute books was being violated with impunity. A decided change soon began to take place, and despite strong opposition a series of notable reforms were conducted, which have resulted in the elimination of virtually all the abuses which were prevalent before he took office.

Among some of the changes he put into effect were the drafting of the soft drink license law, as a means of curbing the illicit sale of intoxicating liquor, a cleanup of the police force and the formation of an efficient vice squad.

Mr. Sparks will succeed K. P. Aldrich, acting postmaster of Akron.

Mr. Sparks is the brother of Harry A. Sparks of this city, and a nephew of W. C. Hutchison of the Hutchinson & Gibney Company.

He was at one time a bookkeeper with the Hooven & Allison Company here, and later lived for several years on a farm on the Jamestown pike.

HENRY CLEWS

Weekly Financial Review

Business conditions ascribed the present retardation of readjustment chiefly to this very cause. Improvement in railroad operating figures as well as in road income continues to be in evidence. An encouraging piece of news is the announcement that more than 75 per cent of workers on the short line railroads have accepted the reductions ordered. It may be taken for granted that labor in every branch of trade will before long do likewise.

Money and Credit

The good showing of the Federal Reserve System has been continued in the statement published on May 6, reserves there indicating an increase in gold for the week of $25,800,000 while the reserve ratio has reached a level of 55.3 per cent. Diminution of bill held continues, the total now on hand being reported at $2,160,000,000 or a further reduction of $7,000,000 during the week. Deflation which is thus strikingly manifested in the statement of the Reserve banks has again been far more evident in the reports of the Northern and Eastern institutions than in those of the Southern and Western. In these circumstances factors are clearly at work which may be expected to aid in the attainment of cheaper money. Reduction in rates of discount at Reserve banks has now extended itself to the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, where a cut to 6 1-2 per cent on ninety day paper has been made and to the Reserve Bank of Atlanta which has lowered its rate to 6 per cent. This follows the lead of the Bank of England which has lately made a reduction to 6 1-2 per cent and of Continental banks. That the end of the deflation period has been reached and that more courage and constructiveness accompanied by large statement of Governor Harding of the Federal Reserve Board.

Market Review and Outlook

The market during the past week has been active and strong, with prices advancing during most of the time and an unusually large turnover has resulted. There has been very satisfactory strength in practically the entire list. In the rails this has been largely due to the well confirmed belief that economies to be introduced, including wage reductions, will enable the roads to soon make a much better showing, particularly now that the outlook for business is so much more encouraging. The fact that railroad stocks have again been taken in hand and that some of the low-priced shares are once more looming up to the front is calculated to do much in restoring confidence in the market, as they are always favorites with the public.

"I Sell Dirt"

Multiplication

THE X-Y salesman sold a Vacuum Cleaner to Mrs. Jones. In his order book it was listed as one sale. But what really happened was this:

Mrs. Jones showed Mrs. Smith her new purchase, pointing out its selling features. Mrs. Smith told Mrs. Brown. And Mrs. Brown recommended X-Y to Mrs. White as the best cleaner on the market.

From ONE buyer a GROUP of buyers had been created. One sale multiplied through word-of-mouth publicity had spread into an endless chain.

There you have the principle of advertising. For advertising is nothing more or less than individual selling multiplied. It is its CUMULATIVE force that makes it the dynamo of modern business.

Your advertising creates a specific number of buyers. But does it stop there? How about the buyers those buyers create for you?

You may make a fairly accurate estimate of its DIRECT returns. But you can only begin to fathom the depths of its INDIRECT influence, that radiates far far beyond its circumscribed selling bounds. And you can no more shut off that tremendous power of MULTIPLIED SALESMANSHIP than you can bottle up Niagara Falls.

Consider the more than 5,000 circulation of The Morning Republican and The Evening Gazette on that basis. Visualize the DIRECT returns of your advertising from over 15,000 buyers; and the INDIRECT influence of those buyers on their friends—and their friends' friends.

Then—and then only—you begin to get some conception of the MULTIPLIED selling power behind the circulation that makes.

Springfield Man Arrested on Charge of Bribery, Alleged

Springfield, May 14.—Wm. Rogers of 602 East Harrison street, Springfield was jailed by Springfield authorities Friday, on the charge of offering a bribe of $20 to S. A. Propst, Dayton, superintendent of the Ohio Anti-Saloon League, and having intoxicating liquor in his possession.

Mrs. Anna Rogers, at whose home Rogers resides, is wanted by prohibition agents, who allege they found two jugs containing moonshine whiskey in her home. Mrs. Rogers, the officers say, jumped through a trap door in the cellar and eluded them.

Eliseo Barletta, 411 Tibbets avenue was arrested when the officers visited his place and found a wine press, and twenty gallons of wine in the cellar.

Propst, C. D. Zellers, assistant superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, Constable Moody and former Sheriff James L. Welsh, made the raids.

Former Xenian Appears in Show Playing in City

Blackie Blackburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Blackburn of this city, and a Xenia boy, who has made good behind the footlights, will play before his home-town audience, the most critical there is, at the Opera House Tuesday night.

Through arrangements with C. L. McClellan, Blackburn has been booked to appear here with his "Naughty Baby" Company, a musical tabloid outfit that has been meeting with success and has been winning rousing press notices wherever it is shown.

The local Thespian owns a half interest in the comedy part, with his blackface character, a part he has won special study to and which has won him much recognition. Press critics say that Blackburn is a hard worker and his interpretation of black face art is superb.

Dolly Lucky, is the female lead in the piece, which carries 14 people including a number of pretty girls. The outfit is well costumed and the scenery new, and clean. Featured however in the piece, besides Mr. Blackburn is "Miss Lucille" a four year old child born to the stage, and with a poise and ability that compares favorably with many older stars.

Over Quarter of Antioch Fund Is Now Pledged

Solicitors in the Antioch College fund campaign in Dayton up to noon Friday had obtained $55,975 toward the goal of $200,000, which is sought.

Announcement of the appointment of 22 faculty members was made at the Engineer's Club, Dayton, where the campaign workers met for luncheon. Twelve members of the faculty are now at work on organization plans, the study of building operations and the work of examining and conferring with many prospective students.

An enrollment of 300 students is expected next season, it is said, all of whom will be picked through special tests and requirements. The college hopes to have 600 students as a maximum desired.

SUGGESTIONS

For Moths—A few drops of your favorite perfume dropped on small pieces of pumice stone and laid among clothes will drive moths away and give a delicate odor to your garments.

To Make Cut Glass Sparkle—Wash it in warm soapsuds (never hot); use a brush; rinse in bluing water, then polish. The bluing water seems to make it sparkle like diamonds.

Tarnished Faucets—A little lemon juice rubbed on tarnished faucets will easily and quickly brighten them.

Ivory or Bone Handles—Never allow handles of pearl, ivory or bone to stand, even for a moment in water. Neglect of this precaution tends to discolor and loosen the handles.

Steel Knives—After the blades of steel knives are washed, scour with bath brick or emery board.

To Mend Broken Stove—A stove that is cracked can be made smooth on the surface, even though the crack is quite broad. Make a cement with egg, the yolk and white beaten together; a teaspoon of stove polish (the powdered kind) work into a paste with finely sifted coal ashes. This will also cover holes in stovepipe. The egg cooks, making a cement strong and hard as the stove itself. When perfectly dry it can be polished.

Another good cement for cracks in stoves is made of equal parts of salt and the ashes from green wood mixed to a paste with water. Fill the crack with this and it will soon become hard as a rock.

RECIPES FOR A DAY

Mint Jelly—Chop a bunch of fresh mint and boil rapidly in two cups of water for twenty minutes. Add one cup of sugar, two tablespoons of gelatin softened in half a cup of white grape juice and stir until the gelatin is dissolved. Strain, add half a cup of mixed lemon and orange juice and color with a little spinach juice or vegetable coloring matter. Pour into small moulds and chill on the ice.

The Revolt of Vera Sanderson

By JANE PHELPS.

Unrecognized Heroism.
Chapter 41.

"Mamma! Look your dress is afire!" Gloria screamed in fright. Margaret had dropped her cigarette on her light chiffon dinner dress and in an instant it blazed.

I had read that when one is afire if a rug is handy it will quench the fire if the person is thrown on the floor and rolled in the rug.

I grabbed Margaret, and by main force threw her onto the rug then rolled her over and over. Fortunately I had acted immediately, and soon smothered the fire. Margaret was not at all injured save a few small burns on one leg. But my hands were quite badly blistered.

"You were rough enough!" she spluttered when I let her up.

"I had to be. I tried to work quickly."

"If you had let me alone I could have put it out all right. I was in no danger."

"Poor Aunt Vera's hands are burned!" Gloria said touching one of my hands with her fingers.

Margaret was so busy pulling off her shoe and stocking, she paid no attention. But said:

"Tell Annie to bring me the carrom oil in the bathroom medicine chest, Gloria."

When Annie appeared with the oil and lint bandages, Margaret had her help fix the blisters on her leg, then was sending her back with the oil. I had stood silently witnessing her absolute oblivion of me and my hurts. In astonishment, I knew, and I was aware that Margaret also knew, she had been in great danger. It would have been an insult to her intelligence to think otherwise. That filmy chiffon dress would have been all ablaze in a moment.

"Aunt Vera's hands are burned awful!" Gloria again spoke.

Annie turned to me, and with pity in her eyes she asked her sympathy. She had long learned not to say much to me before Margaret. She swathed my hands tenderly in the oiled bandages, and then I went upstairs. Keith had gone out and I sat down by the window in the dark room to wait for him.

My hands smarted but my feeling of insult made the smart still harder to bear. Not only had Margaret belittled what I had done for her, but seeing my hands were far more in need than her leg, she not only allowed herself to be attended to first, but had ignored my hurt entirely.

"She might have died if you had let her alone," something within me whispered, "then you would have had a home and Keith to yourself."

I was inexpressibly shocked at the unbidden thought, and felt so wicked that I prayed to be forgiven.

When Keith came in, Margaret had gone to bed. He came right up finding me in the dark, scolded a little.

"You shouldn't sit mooning in the dark, dear. When you stop reading or whatever you happen to be doing, get a bed—why, what is the matter with your hands?"

"I burned them."

"You poor child! How?" He drew me down on his lap and kissed my wrists where the bandages ended. I would have been willing to be even more painfully burned for that caress.

I told him the story from beginning to end, without finding fault with Margaret, or stating that she had paid no attention to me or my burns. I did tell him that she seemed sure she would not have been burned had I let her alone.

"But Keith she had on the thinnest sort of dress and it would have burned quickly."

"Of course it would! You were a brave girl. People are apt to make light of accidents when they come off with a whole skin. But fire is always dangerous. I am glad you had presence of mind to remember to roll her in the rug."

He helped me undress and waited upon me so tenderly that I told him that I would keep the bandages on always if he were going to be so nice to me.

At breakfast he inquired solicitously after Margaret's burns.

"They smarted so I couldn't sleep," she complained.

"They wasn't half as bad as Aunt Vera's burns, Uncle Keith," Gloria broke in. "And Aunt Vera never made a bit of fuss. Mamma was so funny. She never noticed Aunt Vera at all only to scold her. I'll never try to save anyone from being burned if I get scolded."

"Keep still, Gloria! Children should be seen not heard," her mother said impatiently, while Keith quietly asked Margaret to let him see how badly she was injured.

She stripped down her stocking and undid the bandage. Two or three small blisters and a redness of the front of her leg proved the extent of her injuries.
